About the University

The Guru Kashi University was founded by the Balaji Education Trust in Talwandi Sabo in 1997, and it served as the cornerstone for education in the region. Guru Gobind Singh Polytechnic, the initial college, opened in 1998, with graduate and postgraduate programs later added. Guru Gobind Singh College of Engineering & Technology was founded in 2001, while Guru Gobind Singh College of Education opened in 2005. In 2006, the GGS Institute of IT and Research and the GGS College of Nursing were established. The Punjab Act No. 37 of 2011 founded Guru Kashi University. Since then, the institution has grown and served the needs of the local, national, and worldwide communities in the midst of natural beauty.

Because it is located in a rural location, the university caters to agricultural needs and has launched a number of programs through the College of Agriculture. It has two accreditations: ICAR and PCAR. To increase research and teaching exposure, the university has formed partnerships with peer universities and institutions at the local, national, and worldwide levels. The institution offers over 50 undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral degrees and uses a Choice Based Credit System. At all levels, the curriculum is centered on learning outcomes, and a Multiple Entry and Exist system has been implemented.

With outstanding facilities and chances for sports and cultural activities, students receive high-level instruction in both individual and team events.

The campus is located 5 kilometers from Shri Damdama Sahib, Talwandi Sabo, in a rural region spanning 75+ acres. In addition to academic and administrative blocks, it has dorms, canteens, agriculture farms, orchards, Herbal Garden, gymnasium, sports grounds, well-kept parks, auditorium, open-air theatre, library, computer center, and open learning centres for students in all academic blocks.
